The next term of the Hustings Court will not be a regular grand-jury term, and no tion of Professor Cromwell which such firstclass entertainments as those he gives de-serves. The audience last evening was quite good, considering the very disagreeable night, and a most interesting description of Jerusalem and the Holy Land presented. The running commentaries upon the scenes presented are clever and interesting, and a vast amount of useful and pleasurable instruction may always be derived during an evening spent at Professor Ccomwell's "Lenten recreation." He has the finest and most complete collection of historic scenes and art pictures that were probably ever gotten together. He has travelled over the countries he portrays, and has made the intelligent description of them an almost lifestudy. He not only tells you what places his pictures represent, but moreover gives the customs and manners of the people and spicy bits of local history and traditions.

NO. 59.

The next term of the Hustings Court will not be a regular grand-jury term, and no criminal cases are docketed for trial.

Mr. J. R. Tillery, of the Rocky Mount (N. C.) Progress, who has been here on a visit, Colonel W. B. Wooldridge, treasurer of Chesterfield county, who has been very sick for several weeks, is improving. Work will be commenced at the different brick-yards in the city in a few days.

The shrubbery in the Courthouse Square has been ruined by cows. It is suggested that the Council have some kind of fence put around the square to protect the young trees from cattle.

Owing to the inclement weather there were few country wagons in town yester-day. The roads at present are very muddy. Some important cases are set for trial a the next term of the Chesterfield Circuit Court, which meets again in May.
